We gather now in reverie
The gold dust of our yesterdays
Into a shining memory,
In all our actions, all our ways.

Dedication

Out from the wings a figure of our day
Comes where our stage encircles him with light,
For his last curtain call is now in sight
And we would have a thing or two to say:
What work and wisdom follow from his way
Into a spirit that has known no fright,
That has become Northeastern overnight,
A progress sure that years may never stay.

A new year falling in, an old one out,
So let us drink to it, raise every stein —
Strains from our Alma Mater, without doubt,
Are far more fitting than this ragged rhyme;
So let us rise together now and shout,
"All Hail to him, the Titan of our time!"

Dr. Carl Stephens Ell

President Northeastern University

President's Message

To the Class of 1959:

This message has particular significance to me because it is the last opportunity I shall have as President to address an outgoing class through the pages of the Cauldron. This fact might readily bring an element of sadness, but instead I feel a sense of pride in the thought that Northeastern is sending out into the world over nine hundred educated men and women from this Class with talents and training which can work wonders in the next fifty years.

Mrs. Ell and I have had our own lives greatly enriched by our many contacts with the Northeastern family; now, joining you as alumni, we look forward to continued and closer relationship.

I cannot omit from this greeting a word of appreciation for the many thoughtful expressions of affection from you as students during the months since I announced my resignation. These expressions have touched me deeply and will always be a treasured part of my life.

As you go out from the University where you have spent the last five years, there stretches ahead a future filled with priceless opportunities for all of you. Some of these opportunities are financial, giving you the means of fulfilling many of your desires; some are educational and cultural, helping you to enjoy a richer life; some are in the priceless possession of family and friends, enabling you to share with loved ones the joys and sorrows of life; some are in the nature of active religious, civic, national, or social service.

It is my hope that you will bring to all of these opportunities a strong moral and spiritual approach, that you will have courage, balanced judgement, and self-reliance in the decisions which you must make.

It has been said that "the beginning of all excellency lies in the determination to make the best use of one's self." May the members of the Class of 1959 make the best use of their talents and contribute notably to the excellence of the world.

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Carl S. Ell". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned in the lower right quadrant of the page.

The night drifts down on quiet wings;
Invisible forces move the Earth.
No mountain is, and no bird sings
But something underneath, behind,
Supports its being, tells its worth
Though all the world be blind.

Mrs. Carl Stephens Ell

... the builder ...

... the blood donor ...

The symbol of Northeastern University is a flaming torch with the words Lux, Veritas, Virtus, but the living symbol of the school is in the man — Dr. Carl Stephens Ell.

Whether it is the excitement of each new cornerstone, the spontaneous participation of a sports event, or the importance of a civic affair, our Living Symbol is on hand.

This then is the President of Northeastern University . . .

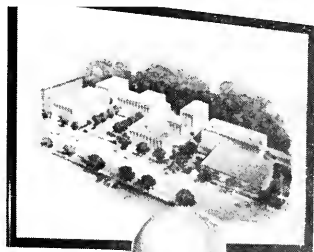

... the spirit ...

... the hosts ...

... the administrator ...

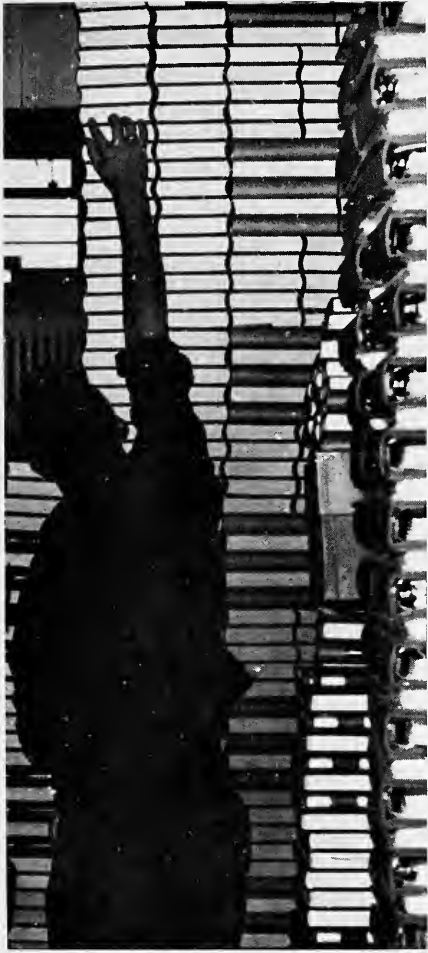

Dr. Myra L. Herrick

The director, confidante, and friend of 320 co-eds announced early in the year she would be leaving the University to take a post at her alma mater, Jackson University.

Myra L. Herrick became Northeastern's first Dean of Women in 1954 after serving as an advisor for four years. She had graduated from Jackson College in 1941 and received her M.A. in history from Tufts University in 1942. Before coming to Northeastern she taught high school and was a placement director for the New England States Teacher's Agency.

"It was a hard decision to make," Dean Herrick said, after announcing her retirement. "I'm going to miss the girls very much, and I wouldn't leave Northeastern except to go back to my own school."

The many organizations she actively supported and the many girls to whom she gave encouragement and support will miss Dean Herrick.

"When we ride on the MTA."

Class History

By Bob Davis

The term "beat generation" had not been coined when we registered in September 1954 so the upperclassmen and professors just called us frosh.

The only coffee-house we knew at that time was the Commons and poetry readings were confined to the lyrics of All Hail. And we did not have time to rebel against society.

We walked and walked during Freshman Week and stood in many lines—tuitions, photographs, ROTC fittings. If we felt a cold wind at our back it was probably a hurricane brewing; there were quite a few that season. One storm christened Edna came the night the upperclassmen gave a Freshman Show in Alumni Auditorium—but most of us went anyway and enjoyed ourselves. "Those without dates can say they were out with Edna," was one of the jokes that night.

Beneath the fun of Freshman Week there were hints of the serious purpose of college life. At one of the many orientation meetings Dean of Students, Harold W. Melvin told everyone to look to their right and to their left. "One of you will not be here next year," he said. Soon some of us were to find it more than an academic joke.

After buying our textbooks we wrapped them in the bright red covers that proudly told everyone we were Northeastern students. In the same spirit we bought stickers for our cars and banners for our wall. Soon we had a chance to shout our pride—when the Huskies played Rhode Island.

There was so much new, interesting and exciting that organizing our time became a problem. We needed room for classes, studies, activities—and watching the fascinating construction on Hayden Hall. The Engineers at least had an occupational excuse for studying the riveting and shoveling instead of their textbooks.

Division A or Division B? That was the question as the time approached for us to become part of the Co-operative Plan of Education. The first interview with our co-ordinator in which we discussed job and division preferences kicked off our co-op life. After being assigned a division we said goodbye to friends on the other side of the co-op world, knowing if we saw them again it would be by accident. Now our job was to make the best of two worlds.

Now we were sophisticated veterans of the University and as such helped welcome 1760 new freshmen of the Class of '60.

The first Mayor of Huntington Avenue campaign added excitement early in the year with its mock balloting, and zany campaigning. Pete Maloney was our first Mayor and the money was donated to the Hayden Hall building fund.

The cornerstone of Hayden Hall was laid in November and as classroom superintendents we felt pretty proud.

In March we joined the middler class for the Midnight Mood dance.

We proved we were red-blooded young men by donating some of it to the Red Cross in a drive sponsored by the Student Union this year.

A snowstorm in March cancelled classes and forced many students and faculty members to sleep in the gymnasium after "South Pacific" rehearsals.

King Husky IV died and Her Regal Highness Princess Shawmda took over.

We were reminded our campus was once the site of the first World Series when Fork Frick, National Baseball Commissioner, participated in unveiling a plaque commemorating that event at the Physical Education Center.

Hayden Hall was finally ready for classes and not any too soon with 1,700 freshmen arriving.

In the beginning.

Sophomore

Jack Griffin '60BA was our second mayor of Huntington Avenue. The News entered the political field by nominating Pogo for President. In a straw ballot History-Government students correctly predicted Eisenhower would win the real election. The Political Society was formed and garnered some national figures for its speakers.

Harold W. Melvin retired as Dean of Students but stayed on as a teacher in the English Department. He was succeeded by Dean Gilbert G. MacDonald, taking over as Dean of Freshmen was Professor Kennedy of the Math Department.

The first solo in the ROTC Flight Training Program was performed by an engineering student. Two professors in the Chemistry Department announced their text had been pirated by Russian publishers. Jean Mattson was named Woman of the Year and the News selected John Erickson as Athlete of the Year.

Comedy highlighted the Silver Masque productions "You Can't Take It With You," "John Loves Mary," and "Kiss Me Kate." On the more serious side was "Our Town."

Early in the year we learned that the University had purchased the condemned Boston Opera House site and that wrecking on the building would begin soon.

"... and Charlie Brown for vice-president."

Middler

The Huntington Avenue Mayorality race was colorful as usual. Connie Pappas, dressed in a Roman toga was elected.

For the first time we had a Homecoming Queen — Marsha Gatonska '61LA who lent her royal presence to the UConn game and the Fall Sports Dance.

We severed athletic relations with Brandeis University after a controversial football injury.

The construction of a Graduate Center behind Hayden Hall was announced.

With the new year came some changes. Dr. White was appointed the University's first Provost. Following this came the announcement that Dr. Ell, after 48 years of serving the University would retire in 1959.

The wrecking crew advanced on the Opera House and soon walls came tumbling down. The combination of lifting cranes and falling bricks was irresistible and we all became sidewalk superintendents once again.

Our new mascot, King Husky IV made his debut on a local television program. The Student Council began considering a new class ring. The University ran into editorial and legislative problems when it tried to acquire some property for a President's home. Dick Dukeshire was named head basketball coach.

Dr. Asa Knowles, President of the University of Toledo, was named President Ell's successor.

The Silver Masque's fare was more varied than usual with "The Man Who Came to Dinner," a comedy; "Dark of the Moon," a fantasy; "Okla-homa," a musical and "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," a tragedy.

Junior

In our final year we began to look beyond the immediate problems of study and tests to the brave new world of "after graduation." Knowing they would soon be memories gave a special significance to the year's events.

King Husky IV died and finding a new mascot became a problem. In a front page picture, The New suggested a monkey as replacement. Husky IV's father came to the rescue and was our temporary mascot for the Homecoming Game with Bridgeport.

After a colorful campaign, Jack Killam emerged as Mayor of Huntington Avenue.

The University gave a lasting tribute to its President by renaming the Student Center building the Carl Stephens Ell Student Center. It was another reminder that Dr. Ell would be leaving with us.

Other losses and gains: Colonel Murray D. Harris retired as Chairman of the Department of Military Science and Tactics and was replaced by Colonel Sidney S. Davis; Dean Myra Herrick left us to become a Dean of Women at Tufts University and Tufts reciprocated when Dr. Dorothy Dissel, one of their directors became our new Dean of Women.

A new class ring, modelled on the West Point design, was adopted and would be available to our class.

Division B inaugurated its Winter Festival. The courtyard was filled with odd-shaped snow sculptures and in the corridors strangely garbed students competed for the "Abominable Snowman" title.

The Silver Masque began its season by taking Eliza Doolittle off the streets for "Pygmalion." "The Great Sebastians," "Carousel" and "A View from the Bridge" followed.

Joyce Deneault was chosen Queen of the Winter Carnival held in Jackson, New Hampshire. Henrietta McKee was named Woman of the Year.

A new department for Drama, Speech and Music, under the chairmanship of Eugene J. Blackman, was created, reminding us that we were leaving a still growing institution.

They told us it was all work and no play.

Across the river and into the trees.

Morning March.

"Don't forget your freshman hand book."

Seventy-six trombones led the big parade.

Hold that tiger and that pose.

Festival

Which twin has the Toni?

The world, the flesh,
and the devil.

Chee-ee-ee-ze.

We're comin' to the parkin' lot.

Yes, we're open. . . .

A fad hits NU — hoops that is.

Now lean over!

Woman of the Year and friend.

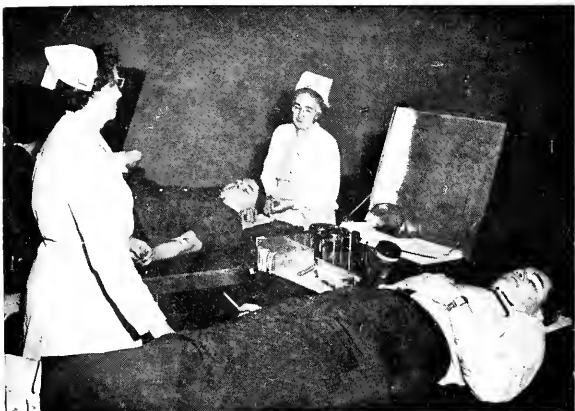

. . . but there's no room.

"Is it a purple people eater?"

"But I came to get some."

So that's where the Cauldron money goes.

Practice session for engineers.

Anvil chorus.

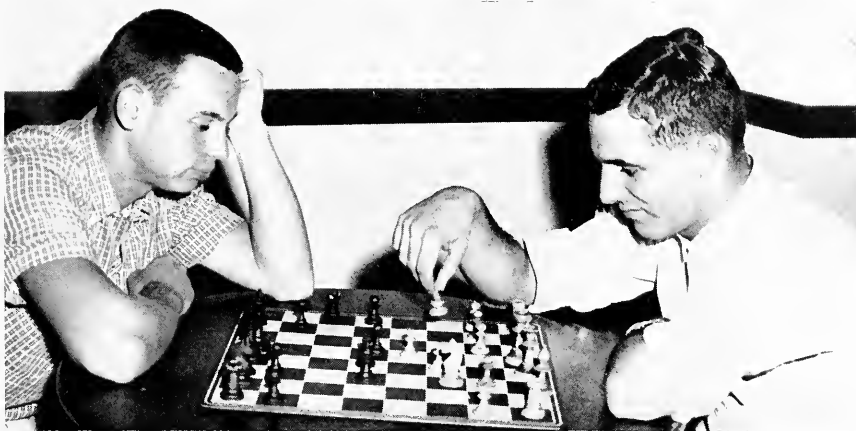

Another parking lot gone to pot.

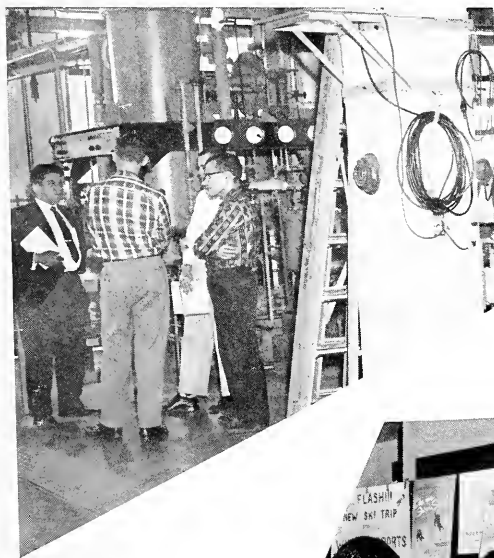

No, no. I meant BU.

You'll be sorry!

Anyone know where the socket is?

Good thing the professor is late.

What do you mean my credit is no good?

The little scrolls that we receive
Hold meanings eyes may never see
Encompassed by what we believe,
Not just a matter of degree.

Cauldron

Being a member of the Cauldron staff can easily discourage the most ardent worker when he has to meet the barrage of questions that his fellow students throw at him each year. This year was no different. The small, but ambitious, yearbook crew received its annual inquiries of "when is that d—— book coming out?" But this year was going to be different. We were going to meet our deadlines and have the book ready on time. Somehow or other deadlines came and went with the three or four Cauldron workers trying hard to keep up with them. Needless to say we didn't quite succeed.

But nevertheless we feel that the extra time was well worth waiting because we have at last come out with the best yearbook Northeastern has ever seen. This may sound a little egotistical but so what.

Of course, we can't grab all the credit off for ourselves; we have to spread it around a little. The biggest help we had came from Loring Studio's and Mr. Bob Talbot. Breaking previous yearbook tradition Loring's came here to us; we didn't have to trot into Boston after them. Their photographers helped in many ways that only the staff will ever realize and for this help we are grateful.

Here at school help (much needed and appreciated) came from, the Press Bureau, Capt. Charles Skinner of the ROTC department, Prof. Kitchen, "Ma" Chartier, and our ever patient adviser Prof. Marston. To these people we wish we could sub-dedicate this book.

To the recipients of the 1959 Cauldron we hope that this book will be a proud reminder of your college years at Northeastern University.

Bob Smith, Editor

An editor's dream come true.

Of course, it wasn't all work.

Oh, for an inspiration.

The News

Despite numerous accusations of slander, libel, and rabble rousing, the "Motheaten" News as it was affectionately called, managed to survive irate readers, eighty-hour weeks, and a little monkey business to publish twenty-nine regular issues ranging from four to sixteen pages.

Two special events were also recorded by the News in four page papers — the first was the announcement of President Carl S. Ell's retirement and the second the naming of his successor, Asa Knowles.

From their third floor Center Building perch, the editors could observe the news as it happened (along with a few passing co-eds) and the staff of news hungry reporters either found or made up enough stories to fill a dozen papers.

Home, family, and classes became secondary as the loyal band of editors cut themselves off from civilization and hibernated in 307C.

The treadmill to exhaustion began Tuesday at Noon and finally ended late Thursday at the Neighborhood Publishing Company, East Boston where both the paper and the editors were put to bed.

A friendly rivalry existed between Division A and B with each striving to publish the biggest and gaudiest papers. The competition sometimes became violent but very little blood was shed.

Besides literary bouquets, the News continued their policy of selecting and making awards to the Most Improved Player in every sport and presenting "Eugene" Awards to five outstanding members of the Silver Masque.

"What do I do now?"

Men At Work

Here goes nothing, Leary.

The long but stimulating News year was capped by the annual banquet at which each retiring editor received his just reward (four were guillotined), Bryant Rollins, and Sheldon Stick delivered splendid monologues and Professor Everett Marston, advisor, stole the spotlight with an imitation of the typical Friday afternoon complainer.

Editors up to monkey business.

Silver Masque

The old and the new were given equal stress in the 1958-59 season, when many newcomers joined with only a handful of old pros to give the Silver Masque one of its most successful dramatic years.

In four successive ten-week terms Masquers travelled to England for George Bernard Shaw's, "Pygmalion;" skipped behind the Iron Curtain for "The Great Sebastians;" pranced through the state of Maine in "Carousel;" and finished up the season in Brooklyn in Arthur Miller's "A View From The Bridge."

Newcomer Terry Shustack teamed with Stan Mullin, last year's best supporting actor in "Pygmalion" to launch the 58-59 season.

In their first starring roles Fred Norris and Barbara Kalowsky portrayed the trapped Sebastians so well in "The Great Sebastians" that they were awarded Eugene Awards as the best actor and actress for the year,

The musical strains of Rogers and Hammerstein, America's greatest musical comedy team, filled Alumni Auditorium on the first night of Spring when the curtain rose on "Carousel."

In this tale of an unemployed Carousel Barker, Billy Bigelow played by Tom McKee, and his wife, Julie portrayed by Jane Kissling, the Silver Masque proved its versatility once again.

The season closed not with a whimper but a bang, as Arthur Miller's, "A View From The Bridge," electrified the audiences for two nights running.

Tom McKee led a group of newcomers, Judy Symolon, Alexander Kondracki, to one of the most dramatic two hours the Masque has ever presented.

"The rain in Spain, and all that."

This was the year—the year we had been waiting for.

Coming from almost nowhere, the 1958-59 edition of Coach Zabitski's Huskies did the unpredictable, the amazing and the astonishing to soothe the win-starved Northeastern with six victories and two setbacks.

They were tabbed "The Cinderella Team" and the "Fighting Irish of Huntington Ave." but whatever their nomenclature, they provided some sparkling football, which had been conspicuously absent during previous years.

Attempting one of the most ambitious schedules in decades, the Huskies of "Fighting Irish" fame rolled over such vaunted opponents as Rhode Island, New Hampshire, tricky Hofstra, perennial rival Massachusetts, Bridgeport, and AIC. The two blemishes on this surprising tab came at the hands of Springfield in a hair raising 32-30 setback, and Yankee Conference champ, University of Connecticut in a 46-14 drubbing.

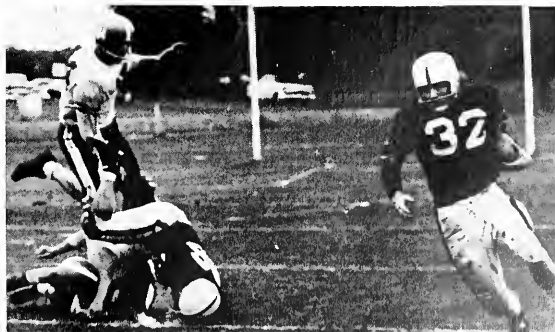

Probably the key to much of the success was the platooning of quarterbacks Jim Hennessey and newcomer and season's surprise Tom Flaherty. The latter was discovered in a pre-season scrimmage against Bates (28-0 N.U.) when Hennessey was sidelined with a sore wing. Flaherty came through in stellar fashion, enough so that Coach Zabitski named him starting quarterback in the Rhody game.

The season got off to an auspicious start at Meade Field in Kingston, R.I. Season's sensation 5'9" Tom Flaherty passed, ran, and tricked himself into three tallies as the Husky rolled up a surprising 26-6 count.

The story was Flaherty and the Husky line. Versatile Tom besides scoring thrice in his debut, romped 112 yards on 13 carries and connected on five out of six passes for 103 markers.

In the second frame with the Z-men on top 6-0 by virtue of a Lanzetta interception and a Flaherty end run, the Rams tied the count and the day was looking dark. But the Huskies came through with a 63 yard march to score, highlighted by a Flaherty to Hemingway toss good for 15 yards.

TOM FLAHERTY—In sensational debut against R.I.

FOOTBALL AT IT'S BEST—Who's got the ball though?

The true test came in this same period when Rhody threatened with seconds left, but the Husky line was equal to the occasion and turned back the growling Rams on the six. From then on the Huskies had the game well in hand as they registered twice in the final stanza. These scores were highlighted by a 32 yard keeper by Flaherty and a Hennessey to Allen flip.

"Like an olive in a martini" was the correct connotation for the condition of Kent Field, the scene of Northeastern's next conquest. New Hampshire was the 12-0 victim this time in a game in which both sides could have used canoes.

Torrents of rain had drenched Kent Field all day and by game time yard-line markers were visible only under two inches of water. Most of the spectators were forced to watch the fray from their cars as the field took on a drive-in movie atmosphere.

Tom Flaherty's name again flashed across sport pages as he danced his way through a maze of mud and players on a brilliant keeper surprising everyone but himself. This tally came early in the third frame.

The Huskies clicked again in the third, this time on a Flaherty to Hemingway over the center pass good for the score.

It was a go-for-broke situation for Springfield College and they broke the hearts of the Huskies as well as the hearts of their fans. The contest, won by the Gymnasts 32-30, had just about everything except a defense on both sides.

Northeastern became the victim of letdown-itis coupled with a severe case of fumbles disease. A weak last period punt that failed to go anywhere and the treacherous running of 5'9" George Redman as he galloped to a trio of tallies, were the immediate causes for this heartbreaker.

The Huskies were twice forced to come from behind. Trailing 12-0 near the end of the half, the defensive unit for Northeastern began the scoring. Bill Evans intercepted a Springfield toss and later scored on a Flaherty option from the twenty-five.

The Huskies came back from intermission determined to show their critics they were not a "flash in the pan" team. John McGonagle sent the Red and Black out in front 14-12 on a spectacular 43 yard payoff jaunt with a Flaherty to Mitchell pass catching the extra points.

DiNino — Full speed ahead.

Football swan dive.

After the Gymnasts had countered with a pair of markers, the Huskies came alive again featured by a Hennessey to Beckett pass good for 43 yards and a DiNino plunge to paydirt from the eleven. Hennessey made the score 30-26 as he sneaked over center from the eleven.

A weak punt late in the final stanza set up the winning TD for Springfield. George Redman was once again the villain. The game ended with the Huskies on the Gymnast's eighteen, with further advances being nullified by a 15 yard clipping penalty.

The following two weeks the Huskies played host to AIC and Hofstra and won both of them under perfect weather conditions. AIC was the first visitor and the hosts were rather rude to their guests from Western Massachusetts.

The Huskies and Jim Hennessey had a field day. Northeastern rolled up seven touchdowns for a 42 to 6 pasting with Jim Hennessey being featured in four. Mobile Jim flung two scoring passes and romped over with a pair himself.

Dr. Ell watches.

It was the high-flying, high-riding Dutchmen from Hofstra next on the Husky list. Hofstra came fully equipped with the famed "lonesome end," plus the radically successful spread eagle formation.

This, however, was to be Doctor Ell's day, for the game was in tribute to the retiring president. In a perfectly executed maneuver, Hennessey and McGonagle pulled off the surprise of the day—an on-side kickoff.

Before Hofstra knew they were on the field they were down 16-0. Both touchdowns were a result of Hennessey to McGonagle tosses.

Late in the second quarter, however, the Dutchmen recovered enough to push across a score. It was set up by a fumble recovery on the Husky nineteen. Hofstra used its lonesome end formation to advantage in this series.

The Huskies switched to a ground game for the remaining minutes to eat up valuable time. For their final tally the Z-men marched 64 yards with Johnny Allen plunging over to end the scoring 24-14.

This was a key win for the Huskies, as Hofstra had been listed in the top ten in the small college parade.

Weiner catches.

Flaherty pursued by Springfield.

"Go west young man" someone said, and so they did to visit their country cousins at the University of Massachusetts. This game always takes on a special glow as Zabilski and Coach O'Roarke were teammates at Boston College. There is never any love lost in this one, however.

The fact that the Redmen had lost three out of four this season was no reason for the Huskies to take this one lightly. They didn't take it easy but were held to two scores, 12-0 on a muddy turf.

The big story in this game was the Northeastern line, which gave up 25 pounds per man to Massachusetts. In fact, this line had been underrated and unnoticed most of the season, but its work in the U. Mass. engagement became clearly evident.

The story was not all defense. John McGonagle on a seventeen yard reverse play scored the first TD after a 56 yard sustained drive.

Jim Hennessey, however, once again stole the offensive limelight. He tossed a sixteen yard bomb to end Irv Weiner in the fourth period and accounted for all of Northeastern's 63 aerial yards.

Colorful floats and the crowning of the second annual Homecoming Queen were the compliments to the next Husky game, as Coach Zabilski's warriors took on a potent University of Bridgeport.

The Huskies bewitched, bewildered, and beheaded the U. B. Knights 36-8 to the delight of the Queen and her court. On runs of six and ten yards Johnny Allen registered two tallies and was the big offensive story. Other scorers were John McGonagle, Fred Bequette and Jim Hennessey.

With this game the 1959 Huskies closed out the home season with a clean slate of four wins and seemed bound to have one of their most successful campaigns since the "Golden Year" with Century Sid Watson.

It was Husky versus Husky as the 1959 grid season prepared to close its doors. At Storrs, Connecticut, Yankee Conference champion Connecticut made this closing a sad one as they outclassed the N.U. Huskies 38-14.

It was all over before it even started. The giant Connecticut forward wall was too much for our Huskies as U. Conn. tallied twice within the first nine minutes of play. From then on there was no contest.

In the second period, Northeastern lost the services of their fine quarterback, Jim Hennessey via the injury route. Jim suffered three cracked ribs.

Northeastern, in fact, did not tally until the third frame with Tom Flaherty at the wheel. McGonagle set it up with a fine runback of a pass interception. John Halloran did the lugging to paydirt.

Now it was all over, the Huskies did it. They did what some teams before them had failed to do—compile a winning season record. This fine showing seemed to point the way for other teams to have winning records too—hockey, basketball, and baseball.

A short gain against Hofstra.

D. MacAuley, D. Lucas, and Dick Bentley "get ready" to start race.

Cross Country

The 1958 cross country season saw an inexperienced Northeastern team, made up entirely of sophomores and middlers, break even in seven meets. The Huskies won three, lost three and placed second in a triangular meet.

On September 27, the young team traveled to Durham, New Hampshire for the opening meet where they were defeated by the University of New Hampshire Wildcats 22 to 37. The race was run in a steady down-pour which made the going very treacherous. Northeastern's outstanding distance runner, Tom Tomasian won individual honors by outkicking New Hampshire's Doug MacGregor over the last half mile. Captain Phil Crosby was the second Northeastern finisher, placing sixth, and sophomore Joe Abelson finished seventh. Murray Watt and Dick Bentley completed the Huskies' top five.

On October 4, Northeastern hosted a quadrangular meet among the University of Massachusetts, the University of Maine, and Springfield College. It proved to be a bad day for Northeastern as they finished fourth in the four team field. The University of Massachusetts edged Maine for the victory as Maine's Dale Bessey won the race. The only Northeastern runner to break into the first fifteen was Crosby, who ran a strong race in placing ninth.

After dropping their first two meets, the Husky harriers bounced back on October 11, to down the University of Rhode Island at Kingston 24 to 31. Tomasian set a new course record in winning. Abelson showed great improvement as he placed fourth, barely edging Crosby who placed fifth, and Dick Bentley sixth.

Minus Tomasian, who dropped out of school, the harriers put on their best team effort of the season in defeating Worcester Polytech 18 to 43 at Franklin Park on October 18. Northeastern grabbed five of the first six places and seven of the first ten. Crosby won the race and he was closely followed by Abelson.

In one of the closest meets possible, the Coast Guard Academy, 38, edged Northeastern, 40, and MIT, 42, in a triangular meet at Franklin Park on October 25. Abelson once again was Northeastern's top man, finishing third. He ran a front race all the way, but tired over the final half mile and was overtaken.

It was a frightening Halloween for our harriers as they were shut out 15 to 46 by a strong Providence College team at Providence on October 31. Providence runners captured the first five places before Abelson, the Huskies' first man, crossed the line in sixth position. Crosby placed eighth, followed by Watt in ninth, Bentley eleventh and Howell seventeenth.

In the final meet of the season the Huskies easily defeated Tufts 22 to 37 at Medford. Abelson won his first race of the season, outdueling the Jumbos' Karl Benedict. Watt beat Crosby for the first time, as they gave Northeastern the third and fourth spots. Bentley finished sixth, and Hancock earned his letter by placing eighth.

Hockey

Northeastern should have grown ivy on its glazed white stone buildings and joined the Ivy League during the winter as the Huskies won five games and lost three from the soft-touch Ivy Leaguers.

The Greater Boston and other independent teams on the schedule like NCAA-Tourney-bound Boston College and Canadian star-studded Boston University and Michigan State provided far stiffer competition, winning eight games while dropping seven to the Huskies.

The Huskies blew extremely hot and cold throughout the season, winning on nights when they were discounted as being heavy under-dogs and losing on other nights when they were counted as sure bets. However, they managed to end up with a winning 12 win 11 loss mark, including a four game winning streak at end of the schedule.

In Frank Carroll the Huskies had a talented, workmanlike goalie. Although a little erratic in the nets at times, Frank allowed only 99 goals to be scored against him to establish a new Northeastern record for a goalie. The record was unheralded at the time but certainly rates as one of the most outstanding performances by an NU athlete. After the last game Carroll stated, "I was hoping to break the 100 against mark all season. It was in the back of my mind all the time but I was really sweating these last few games."

The one distinctively brilliant star on the team was Art Chisholm who made it big in his debut into big time college games. Graduating from pups where he was a great first year scorer, Artie retained his knack for scoring and his all-around versatility with the best that varsity competition had to offer. And this past winter, the Huskies faced many excellent teams.

Chisholm takes shot at Yale goalie.

McEholm pushes two B.U. attackers aside.

Artie was named Athlete-of-the-Year here at Northeastern; was a member of the New England All-Star team; was the leading scorer in New England, and the second leading in the East.

All told, Chisholm tallied 64 points on 40 goals and 24 assists to place him at the top of the list of high-scoring Huskies players for a season. He has a chance to set another all-time Northeastern mark. With two years of eligibility left, Chisholm can capture the total point title currently held by his coach, Jimmy Bell.

The season got underway with the auspicious debut by Chisholm who broke Yale's back with all four goals in the 4-3 decision at New Haven.

Yale, traditional opening game rival, was further humiliated by the loss since the game marked the opening of a modernistically designed $1,500,000 rink.

Other Husky highlights in this game were the large number of Husky fans in the New Haven area who came over to cheer the red and black on, the fact that it was the first Husky victory in seven attempts at Yale, and a pair of outstanding sophomore defensemen, Jim McEholm, who went on to win the NEWS' Most-Improved-Player Award in hockey, and John Palmer, were "discovered."

Outstanding defensive play kept Yale from scoring the equalizer when they had a two-man advantage during the last two minutes of the contest.

Three days later, the Huskies bowed to Boston University 5-3 next door at Boston Arena.

The Terriers Canadian, star center Bob Marquis scored a goal, one of three, on a penalty rarely invoked in modern hockey, the penalty shot to put his team in front to stay.

This dampened the spirit of the Huskies no longer than three days as they began a three game winning streak with a 5-3 victory over Brown.

A new pair of skates enticed winger George

Lambert to tally five goals as the Huskies buried Bowdoin 10-1 here at the Arena for the second win of the trio.

Seeming buried in this romp were the three goal effort by Chisholm, the four assists by another newcomer, sophomore Gerry Cronin, younger sibling to Husky captain Don Cronin, and the fine defensive work.

The third triumph of the series came at Watson Rink, Harvard, new-found home for the Huskies, as they downed Princeton 6-3.

Chisholm scored his third hat trick in five games.

But such dizzy heights, a 4-1 record, were too much and they collapsed into a five game losing skein.

The first of these losses was more or less anticipated. Northeastern was surprised to learn that it had been selected to face powerful Michigan State, who had suddenly decided to make an Eastern trip, in the first game of the Christmas Tourney. The loss, although expected, was brutal, an 8-1 beating. Chisholm, however, was selected to a berth on the All-Carnival second team.

OH, MY ACHING BACK. Carroll makes unusual save against B.C.

The dejected Huskies fell victim to Brown, whom it had defeated earlier, 5-3 in the consolation game.

Receiving little consolation from that, the Huskies collapsed before a strong, young Boston College sextet 8-2 and fell to Providence 4-2.

Sinking even lower, they lost to Middlebury 9-5 although facing two of the top scorers in the East in Phil Latrielle and Bob Karin, and finally 4-2 to New Hampshire.

New Hampshire, although also sporting a number of good across-the-border players, was decisively an under-dog and the defeat at their hands must have shaken the cobwebs from the Huskies' skates.

They ripped heavily-favored R.P.I. 7-3, knocking them several rungs down in the Eastern Hockey title ladder. Chisholm was again superb, netting the hat trick and assisting on another.

Traveling to Rhode Island, they took revenge on Brown to the tune of 5-1.

The Beanpot Tournament at Boston Garden, by far the best Husky and college hockey drawing card in New England, pitted the Huskies against B.U. in the opening round. Again the results were disastrous. The Terriers played with the Huskies, 7-4.

Before undertaking the consolation game of the tourney, they trounced Tufts 9-2 at Watson Rink.

Harvard proved to be less of a gracious host in the resumption of tourney play, blanking Northeastern 4-0.

The following night, the still-smarting Huskies nipped the decidedly favorite Dartmouth 4-3 in one of the season's biggest upsets, a patented NU trick. Chisholm had the hat trick again.

A 7-3 loss to Colby in Maine and an 8-1 trouncing by Dartmouth at Hanover, New Hampshire in a return engagement were the last defeats suffered for the season.

Dartmouth went on to win the Ivy title while the Huskies went on to win the last four games.

Chisholm scored four goals in each of the next two games to defeat Tufts again, 5-3, at Harvard, and A.I.C., 9-7.

In the game with the West Pointers at Harvard on Military Prom night, they faced not only defenseman Pete Dawkins, the All-American football player but also the sleeper play, a hockey version of the Army-contrived lone-some-end play in football.

Two goals by Artie and another by "Buzz" Paresky turned back the Cadets 3-2 in a real thriller.

Lolly Weisbach's hat-trick in the season's finale versus another group of Cadets, from Norwich, was good enough for the 3-2 galloping finish.

Basketball

The buzzer has been sounded, the scores have been entered, and the records have been turned in.

The long season ended with a mixture of sadness and joy in the hearts of the players. A wistfull nostalgia swelled in the breasts of the five seniors who had just played their last game as a collegiate.

Big John Erickson, the captain, who led the Huskies down the courts and through the baskets in many exciting basketball games was through. Next year there would be someone else taking his place as the team leader. It had been a long grind, and the big forward had distinguished himself both as a player and a leader of men.

A tired but satisfied "Big John" could now reminisce over a season in which he had led an untried, and relatively small team through the dismal early season hardships, which saw them lose their first four games, to the surprising and happy climax which saw them wind up with a ten win and nine loss record. The most pleasing aspect of the victory road run was the fact that the squad won five out of their last six games.

Basking in the limelight, Erickson could remember the Rhode Island game in which he single-handedly almost ruined the Rams by taking the ball off the boards eighteen times in the course of the game.

Although his primary purpose was to get the ball for his teammates, Erickson managed to maintain a slightly better than a ten-point per game average and finished the season as the second leading scorer on the team.

Tall Dick Stewart, who played his best game of the year against Bowdoin by scoring twenty points, was another of the departing five.

Playing in all but one of the eighteen games Dick was the fifth leading rebounder and the sixth highest scorer on the Husky five.

The "Tap-Off" in the MIT game.

The all around ability and value of Stewart was quickly recognized by the opposing teams, and many times they assigned their best defensive man to him. Sometimes this strategy worked, other times it failed.

The aggressive performances turned in by this big senior must have raised a deep respect for him in the eyes of the college coaches and sports writers, for he was chosen, along with teammate John Erickson, to play in the New England All-Stars game on March fifteenth, at the Brandeis gym.

At Waterloo Napoleon was defeated and his men were taken captive by the allied armies. Fortunately Roule Piche was not there. The six-foot three-inch forward played some very important minutes for Coach Dukeshire, and the fact that he did not win any awards or receive any public accolades is no indication of how important he was to the team.

The big guy was able to spell some of the work-horses, and in the close games his presence on the floor, with the other big men, put a great deal more pressure on the other squad.

Piche's grit and ruggedness more than made up for his lack of scoring. The final statistics only show the cold facts and not how well a man played his position or helped a teammate. This is what the big fellow did best, and did it well.

Much of the so-called dirty work was delegated to two of the smallest players on the squad, Bill Doherty and Joe Curran.

These two had the difficult chores of bringing up the ball, setting up plays, and helping the other members of their team to score. Always hustling, always trying, and often times succeeding, these two men were vital cogs in the second half of the season spurt, which saw the hoopsters winning ten out of their last fifteen games.

Junior, Paul Calloe reached the heights of stardom when he poured twenty-two points through the meshes to help defeat a strong Harvard quintet, which was limited to a meager forty-six points in the Huskies first victory.

Calloe, playing center, was the season's find. In addition to tying as the third leading rebounder, he managed to come up with a third in the teams' scoring honors.

Versatile Mike Dvorchak, who plays baseball almost as well as he plays basketball led the Northeastern basketball team in overall scoring. The fiery guard averaged over eleven points per game and shot for an eighty-one percent average from the free throw line.

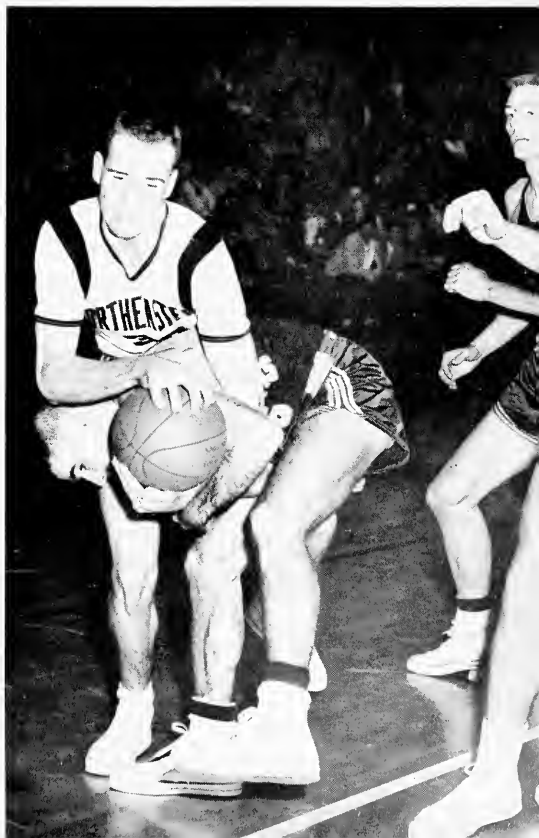

Mike turned into a prolific scorer soon after he got married, which caused Coach Dukeshire to make the comment, "I think I'll marry off the rest of the team."

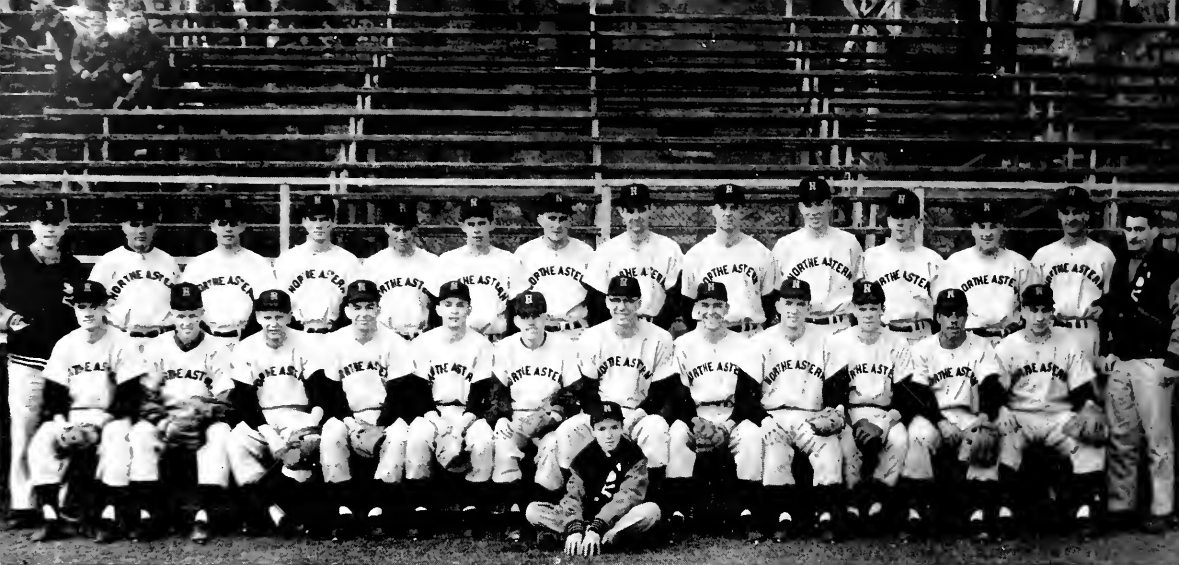

The Rhody game was the first time during the season that the Huskies displayed the potential power they were capable of exploding.

In that game, which many single out as their best, six men scored in the double figures, and the team moved the ball around like a precision-oiled machine.

Although they didn't make a big splash across the headlines, laurels are in order for Dick Brown, Bill Viestra, Pete Hemingway, Bob Clark, Ken Topalian, Joe Mulkerrin, Dan Lynch, and Harry Kresphane.

Baseball

A strong start and a weak finish was this year's story of Northeastern's 1959 baseball squad.

Perhaps the reason for the dismal showing during the last half of the season can be attributed to a very tight schedule.

Fred Beckett's hitting and fielding enabled the Huskies to start the season off on the right foot as they beat Boston University 1-0.

Beckett's long triple driving in catcher, Tom Cangiano, in the second inning proved to be the only run of the contest. Beckett's two fine defensive plays in the fifth inning saved the game for sophomore, Warren Mayhew, who chalked up his first varsity win.

Two days later, at Storrs, Connecticut, the Huskies dropped a 6-1 decision that took two hours and fifteen minutes to play. The only bright spot in the game for Northeastern was Mike Dvorchak's 390 foot home run.

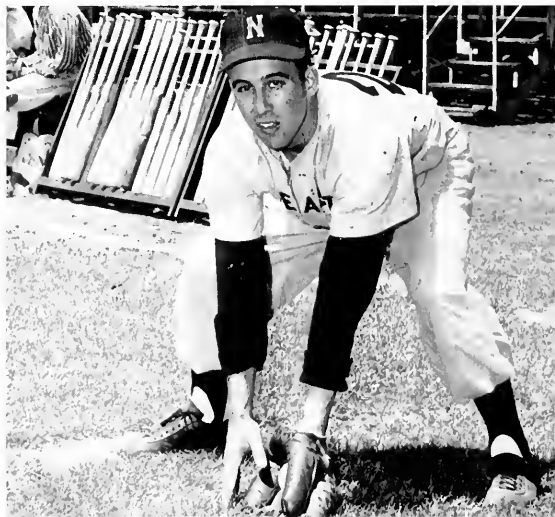

Led by the timely hitting of John Quinlan and Captain John Erickson, the Huskies pinned a 6-2 defeat on Harvard. Warren Mayhew went the distance striking out five Crimson for his second win of the year.

The Huskies made it three out of four as they whipped Bowdoin 8-3. Left handed senior, Jim Buchert, making his first start of the season gave up nine walks in addition to eight hits, but tightened up in the clutch so that the Polar Bears left 12 men on base. Catcher Tom Cangiano's two run double was the big blow in a four run eighth inning.

Warren Mayhew won his third game of the young season against no losses as Northeastern bombarded Clark 8-3. It was strictly an in-field attack as second baseman John Quinlan had four hits in five trips to go along with third baseman Tom Flaherty and first baseman Mike Dvorchak, who each batted in two runs.

The Huskies made it four in a row as they walked over Providence College 8-7. The Connellymen collected only four hits, but capitalized on fourteen bases on balls to squeak out the victory.

A well pitched ball game by sophomore George Murray ended on a dim note as W.P.I. edged out a 2-1 decision. Northeastern's only run came in the sixth, when Tom Cangiano singled home John Erickson who had doubled. Harry Kreshpane filling in for injured Dan Lynch had two hits in a losing cause.

Two days later, Northeastern lost a heart breaker to Boston College 9-6 in eleven innings. All seemed safe in the eleventh as pitcher Mayhew had two out, but trouble started when Mayhew threw wildly to first on the next play. A single, a three run homer, a double, and a single followed before the fire was put out, and when the smoke had cleared four runs had crossed the plate. The Huskies made it interesting in the last half of the inning as they scored one run and had the bases loaded before a relief pitcher came in and slammed the door in the Huskies face.

In a return contest against Boston University, the score was tied at four all in the fifth when the B.U. catcher settled the game with a two run homer over the left field fence. John Quinlan had three hits and Steve Ajemian collected two hits.

Warren Mayhew fanned six and brought the Huskies back on the winning road as he won his fourth game shutting out MIT 2-0. John Erickson, Tom Flaherty, and Tom Cangiano each had two hits.

The GBL leaders, Tufts, blanked Northeastern 6-0 as the Huskies were able to collect only four scattered hits. Starter George Murray pitched well, but he had no hitting behind him for support.

Good defensive play plus timely hitting started a Maine trip off on a good start as Northeastern trimmed Bates 5-3. Flawless fielding by the infield and clutch hitting by the outfield were combined to assure the victory.

The next day against Colby, the Huskies just about ruined chances for the Mules to make the NCCA Regional Playoffs as they beat them 11-9. Tom Cangiano wrapped things up for the Huskies in the ninth inning when he hit a three run homer. John Erickson showed that he had regained the form that he had last year as he hit a tremendous home run that accounted for three runs. Tom Conway who came in to relieve in the eight, blanked the Mules for the rest of the route, and received the win.

The bend and reach.

The wind-up, the pitch!

Only a practice catch.

Bernie Leonard, the six foot five inch 240 pound first baseman of Holy Cross, personally took care of the Huskies as he knocked in five runs with two triples, a double and a single. Warren Mayhew was the starter and loser for the Huskies.

A Saturday double header proved to be double trouble for the Huskies as they lost the morning game to Boston College, 7-1, then traveled back to Kent Field to play host to Springfield and bowed again 17-12 in ten innings.

Boston College was not the same team that the Huskies had defeated 8-3 earlier in the season, as Eagle pitcher Bob Niemiec scattered six hits. John Quinlan was the only Northeastern player to get two hits.

A bases loaded triple in the tenth inning gave Springfield the margin needed to beat Northeastern in the afternoon game. John Quinlan, who had a banner day at the plate, collected four hits, including two doubles, in five trips to lead the hitters for both teams.

In the longest game of the season, the Wildcats of New Hampshire rallied for five runs in the twelfth inning to beat Northeastern 10-5 in a game that took four hours and ten minutes to complete. John MacKenzie came in to relieve starter Jim Buchert and gave a fine performance, pitching six scoreless innings. In the first of the twelfth the Wildcats capitalized on five walks, two wild pitches, and two hits to cave the roof on the Huskies.

In the final game of the season, ace right-hander Warren Mayhew suffered his third loss of the season as A.I.C. dropped the locals 8-2. Captain John Erickson bowed out of his college career by blasting a 395 foot homer. The Huskies picked up only four hits, but left base-runners stranded in scoring position in nearly every inning.

After what appeared to be the start of a successful season, the Huskies faded in the last half of the season losing nine of their last twelve. Coach Connelly explained that the losses can partly be attributed to the inexperience of the team since fifteen of the players were only sophomores with no previous varsity experience.

The team will lose only four seniors: Captain John Erickson, Jim Buchert, Paul McCarthy, and Joe Scole.

Rifling

For the second straight year, the varsity rifle team has posted the best record of any Northeastern athletic team, as they compiled a 31 won and 4 lost record.

The varsity shooters proved that they were no match for local competition as they swept through the Greater Boston League, posting a 10-0 slate. This is the second year in a row that the sharpshooters have gone undefeated in the GBL.

Wentworth, Harvard, Boston College, Tufts, and MIT went down before the Husky triggermen like clay pigeons at a turkey shoot. The Husky shooters scored over 1400 points in every match, while MIT was their only opponent to score better than 1400.

In postal matches the team lost one out of nineteen matches. In invitational matches, shooting against some of the best colleges in the nation, the riflemen split six decisions. They beat Norwich, Coast Guard, and Worcester, while losing to Norwich, Maine, and Navy.

On February 26, 1959, the team set a new range record at Northeastern when they crushed Tufts 1427 to 1274. The old range record of 1426 was set in 1958.

Two outstanding scores were fired during the year, one by Art Smith who fired a 297 out of a possible 300 in the ROTC National Three Position Match, and the other by Walter "Scotty" Draper who won the National Rifle Association New England Sectional title with a 286, and led his team to the title.

Track

The 1959 track season proved a very disappointing one for Northeastern as the Huskies went through thirteen meets without a win.

Although they did not win, neither were they humiliated in any of the seven indoor meets. With a little luck and some help in the weight events, the Huskies could have had a .500 season.

Captain Bryant Rollins broke a bone in his foot in November and missed the entire indoor season as did Al Poole and Murray Watt with leg injuries.

The indoor season opened at Northeastern's Cage with traditional rival Tufts eking out a 59 to 54 victory by winning the final event, the relay. Sophomore Ron Dean was the big surprise of the meet as he won the 1000 yard run.

The Huskies traveled to Lewiston, Maine for the second meet and were trampled by a superior Bates squad 87½ to 29½. Bates runners copped twelve of thirteen first places being shut out only in the dash. Larry Chetti, Bob Hayward and Dick Lucas saved face for the Red and Black by sweeping the dash.

New Hampshire's Wildcats traveled down from the farm country to hand the Tattonmen a 63 1/3 to 48 2/3 defeat. Dick Lucas, Larry Chetti and Tom Cavanaugh emerged as the only winners for Northeastern.

Once again the relay cost Northeastern the victory as the University of Massachusetts rolled to a 61 2/3 to 51 1/3 triumph. For the fourth meet in a row the Huskies outperformed their rivals on the track only to lose because of a lack of weightmen.

With Larry Barry contributing eighteen points on three wins and one second place, the Boston College track team ran up a 72½ to 40½ margin over NU as the Huskies dropped their fifth straight.

Sophomore Will Anderson brightened an otherwise bleak day when he set a new cage record in winning the high jump at 6 ft. 3 in. against the University of Connecticut. The UConn's won the meet 65½ to 47½ with sprinter Gene Givens contributing fifteen points with three wins.

For the final meet of the indoor season the Huskies traveled to the north country where they were defeated by the Black Bears of the University of Maine 77 to 39.

The outdoor season (0-6) proved to be worse than indoors as the Huskies were soundly defeated in every meet.

Sophomore distance ace Joe Abelon emerged as the outstanding Northeastern trackman by piling up a total of 48 points in the six outdoor meets.

The Universities of Connecticut and Rhode Island both totaled over 100 points in completely dominating the Huskies. Abelon saved face by copping the mile against UConn and the mile and two-mile against Rhody.

Abelon was the lone NU winner as Bates made it three teams in a row to clear the century mark with a 109 to 26 victory.

Basil Ince, IC4A quarter mile champion, led Tufts to an 82 to 52 triumph by copping the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes. Abelon outprinted Dave Moore in an exciting 4:32.6 mile, and then came back to take the two-mile in 10:26.

The Huskies won two first place medals in the annual Eastern Intercollegiate Championships at Worcester. Dick Lucas won the laurels in the broad jump with a winning leap of 21 ft. 8 in. and Anderson copped the high jump at 6 ft. 1 in.

Abelon led the Husky scorers for the entire season with a total of 71 points. He was trailed by Lucas with 59 1/3, Jim Banks 47 5/6, Anderson 47 1/2, Henderson 42 3/4 and Tom Cavanaugh 41.

A strong freshman squad led by Billy Lytle and Joe Bolton gives high hopes for next seasons varsity squad. The varsity only loses four men: Bryant Rollins, Charlie Henderson, Ron Donnelly and Tom Cavanaugh. Lytle, a versatile sprinter, hurdler and broad jumper broke the NU freshman scoring mark with a staggering total of 149 points.

Rock n' Roll with Mel Bloomstein.

Pole vaulter Frank Lynch shared the spotlight with the sensational Abelon when he cleared 12 feet for the first time in his short career. Abelon ran 4:32.6 for the second meet in a row as he again ran to victory in the mile, but the Huskies once again tasted defeat 98 to 37 at the hands of a strong Springfield College team.

Captain Bryant Rollins, completely recovered from his foot injury, placed first in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes against the Redmen of the University of Mass. Mass. took the meet 80 to 55, but a number of NU runners performed their best marks of the year.

NORTHEASTERN'S CLASS OF 1959

In 1919, ten years after the Co-operative Plan at Northeastern was established, Sanborn Company became an employer of Northeastern's Co-operative students. And since that time 1100 Co-operative Plan students have been employed in our various Manufacturing, Engineering, and Accounting Departments.

We highly endorse this "earn while you learn" program, and feel that Northeastern Students are well equipped to take their places in the work-a-day world. Our first co-operative student some years ago became our Chief Mechanical Engineer, and several others have already risen to key positions in our organization.

And so — to each and every one of you — good luck and the best of success and happiness in your chosen fields.
